Investiture Ceremony

“Leaders aren’t born, they are made”- Vince Lombardi came true on 22nd July 2020, when the students of Patrician College of Arts and Science, Chennai grabbed the opportunity to campaign for their nominated post. The Campaigning Day was filled with promises, dreams, and foresightedness to build a better tomorrow and spread the glory of Patrician College far and wide. Each of the 60 students nominated, were given 30secs to campaign their vision and mission making use of the virtual Google Meet platform. All preparations were made for the big Election Day. The dawn of 23rd July 2020 was not just another ordinary day in the calendar of Patrician College, but this brand-new day carried the responsibility of electing the right leader which rested in the votes of the Patrician Students. The students were briefed about the virtual election process, how they could exercise their right and cast their vote to elect their leader.

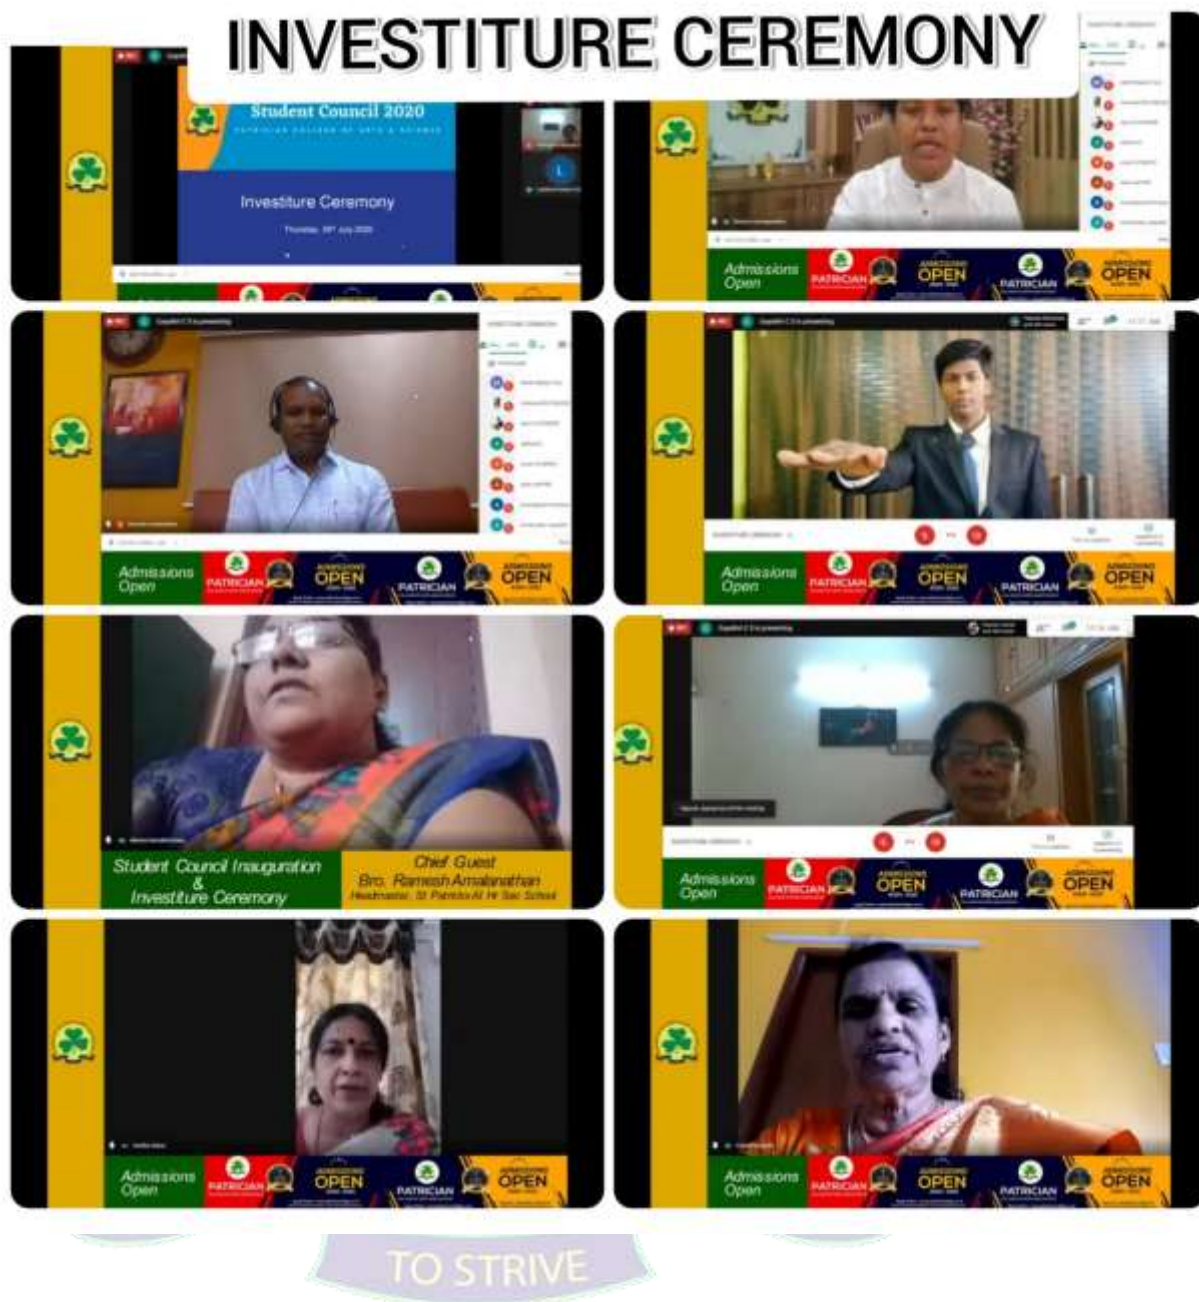

The online election process using Google Forms was hassle free and each page contained the nominees name and photo for the post nominated. There by giving the voters a chance to recall and elect the right leader who was able to inspire them to dream and learn more, to act and stand tall for the prosperity and progress of the college. The two-day election process ended on a positive note with the right, enthusiastic, confident, focused, honest, and genuine leaders being elected to take up the responsibility and lead the college for the year 2020 -2021. Though this year we may be surrounded with many obstacles, the students proved that we could leap over the hurdle with confidence and will power no matter how high and difficult it could be to become an achiever.

The great day had arrived, the long-awaited prestigious moment, the day to bestow the responsibility upon the elected leaders. The Investiture Ceremony was held on 30th July 2020, via google meet. UG INAUGURATION REPORT 19th August 2020 was a day filled with dreams, aspirations, ambitions, hopes, anxiety, determination, eagerness, desire, confidence, happiness, and with mingled feelings in the hearts and minds of many young students who were taking their first major move into college life. From one environment and phase which was filled with warmth, protection, and always been guarded to safety to moving on into an environment and phase where you begin to take charge of being responsible for your actions, developing your skills and exhibiting your talents, exploring yourself in various fields, it is always a challenge to adapt with the change in phase, environment and times.

Despite the changes with the present times, Patrician College Of Arts and Science along with its huge family opened its arms wide to welcome these young aspiring minds to foster them, promising to love and nurture them, to make them feel at home and also steer them on the right path to aspire their ambitions and dreams while moulding these growing minds into promising citizens for the nation. This ambitious day began on the virtual platform with a beautiful prayer song – United we stand to seek, to strive and to find, a true meaning to comfort and tranquille the hearts of the sham rocks with a message that anything could be achieved when we stand untied and work together to seek, to strive and to find success. Followed by a prayer seeking God's guidance for a brand-new start. Dr. Geetha Rufus, the Vice-Principal (Shift-II) welcomed the gathering. The Vice Principal (Shift II) Dr. Geetha Rufus also gave a message to the students to work towards their objective and wished them the very best for the new academic year.
